Opening Session:

10:00 AM — 10:15 AM: Symposium #1 in MPR

“IKEN Update”

Ms. Elena Paul, IKEN President / Director, Birmingham Charter

This presentation will give an overview of IKEN goals and online implementation progress. This year, IKEN launched KECOS (Korean Education Center Online School) with the intent to provide students with a flexible online learning environment in acquiring Korean language. KECOS continues to refine the online program in order for the students to acquire the knowledge and proficiency in Korean language necessary to unlock their academic potential, and ultimately assisting them in gaining admission to the colleges and universities of their choice.

Morning Sessions: 10:20 AM — 11:20 AM

Symposium #2 in Library

“NEWL-National Examination in World Languages”

Mr. Dan E. Davidson, President,
American Councils for International Education, Washington D.C. &
Mr. David Kim, Korean Language Instructor, Anaheim USD

The National Examinations in World Languages (NEWL) is an online proficiency-based language assessment available in several languages. The Korean NEWL exam is designed to provide a set of measures of functional proficiency in the target language for use as a predictive assessment for continued language study beyond high school and as a placement tool by American colleges and universities for entering freshmen. NEWL is intended for high school students, both traditional and heritage learners.

Symposium #3 in Room 113

“Implementing Successful Dual Language Programs”

Dr. Suzie Oh, Educational Consultant & Retired Principal &
Ms. Ellen Park, Principal, Cedarlane Academy, K-8, HLPUSD

Two experienced educational administrators, who successfully implemented Dual Language/Dual Immersion Programs at their school sites, will share their effective practices as well as challenges to sustain and support their programs through their robust leadership skills. Principal Ellen Park will focus on Chinese Dual Language Programs and her experiences with starting and sustaining the following three programs in elementary and middle schools: KDLP, SDLP and CDLP. Dr. Suzie Oh will provide practical information on Korean Dual Language Programs to promote bilingualism, bi-literacy and multiculturalism while maintaining academic achievement in all subject areas.

Symposium #6 in Library

“Classting”

Dr. Chiaie Kitayama, Director, LAUSD &
Mr. Glen Kitayama, Teacher, Castelar Elementary, LAUSD

South Korea's largest educational social network, Classting, is bringing its free, user-friendly service and its practices to the United States. Classting was originally developed by an elementary school teacher to stimulate students' interest and participation in learning while providing an easy service for the teachers to use. Now Classting is used by over 150,000 teachers and over 200,000 classes worldwide. Audience will learn how to get started and how to utilize Classting in a classroom setting.

Symposium #7 in Room 113

“North Korea Defectors: U.S. Resettlement and its Challenges”

Mr. Kris Potter, U.S. Resettlement Assistance Manager

Thanks to the passage of the North Korean Human Rights Act in 2004, there are approximately 200 North Korean refugees living in the United States. There are several hundred more North Koreans who first resettled in South Korea or other countries then immigrate to the United States seeking asylum. As refugees and asylees in a foreign country, they face daunting challenges. But despite the difficulties, they are incredibly resilient and success-driven have great potential to succeed.

Symposium #8 in Room 130

“Online Korean Course Pilot Results”

Ms. Sung Kim, KDLP Teacher, Cedarlane Academy, HLPUSD

This presentation is to provide a general view and understanding of the Korean Online Course, which has been developed by the IKEN. One of many goals of the Korean Online Course is to give an opportunity to middle and high school students whose primary schools do not provide the Korean language course on site. During this presentation, presenters will explain how the course is run and how and why this monumental course is beneficial for students. The audience will be able to gain an understanding of the curriculum and structure of the course and to see some of the dynamic and exciting parts of this course that other courses have not been able to provide, in terms of their instructions and technology. The student's responsibilities, along with information regarding technical support, registering for the class, and course assessments will be a part of the presentation.
